Organic NY – All in This Together!

At home

Grow your Food

Windowsill to full scale - growing your own food provides fresh, healthy produce for you and your family.

Compost

Keep organic matter out of the waste stream by starting a compost pile. No backyard? Try this.

No Pesticides

Avoid toxic chemicals and fertilizers. Learn more about organic land care from our friends here.

Locally

Take a Class

Gardening, cooking, food preservation - make the most of the bounty of our state.

Buy Local Organic

Purchase food at farmers' markets, farm stands, or join a CSA.

Use Local Seeds

Save your own, share with friends, or join a seed library.

School Gardens

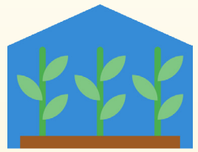
Push for school gardens with nutrition programs and food purchases from local farms!

Push Stores & Eateries

Introduce local organic farmers to your favorite chef. Request local organic ingredients where you shop & dine.

County

Join or Start a Food Hub



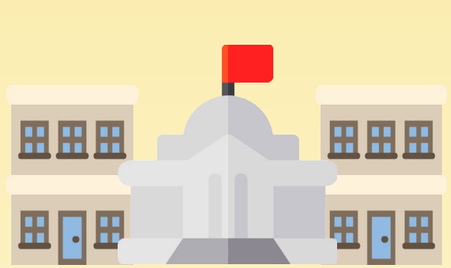
Establish or join a community run, cooperative food hub to market area farm products.

Order in Bulk

Order garden, farm supplies and livestock feed in bulk to receive reduced prices, and to help support farmers, producers and agricultural educators. See an example here.

Become a Water Guardian

Your county can provide incentives to landowners who reduce or refuse the use of chemicals to protect ground water.



Statewide

Know the Issues and set your Priorities

Build support for NOFA-NY's packet of legislation to increase organic farming in New York State.

Know your State Legislators

Get to know your State Senator and Assembly member, and ask them to support our Policy Initiatives that reinforce the importance of organic!
